It's a world where being a male model is more than just a job. It's a career. It's a lifestyle. And with a male model being so hard to find, it's rare to see one who's been around for as long as these six guys have. They've all been in the business for decades, and they've all seen the industry change.
However, the guys focus on their appearance and how they look, and that's what's important to them. They're not afraid to be different, and they're not afraid to take risks. They're not afraid to be different, and they're not afraid to take risks.
