JENNA MENARD tu nueva gurú del maquillaje

La nueva Global Color Artist de Clinique nos explica, en exclusiva para GLAMOUR, los secretos que deben saber todas las mujeres.

Visitamos a Londres para tener un encuentro con la maquilladora internacional Jenna Menard, una de las firmas cosméticas más importantes del mundo, supone un hito dentro de la marca americana, famosa por sus "Sistemas Tres pasos" y concebida con la filosofía de que todo el mundo puede tener una buena piel. Algo que también persiguen con su maquillaje. Jenna transmite a la perfección la idea fresca y natural de Clinique.

¿Cuándo supiste que querías lo que te gustaba?

No hay un momento determinado. Siempre fui dirigida hacia el mundo de la belleza. Crecí rodeada de hermanas, y mi madre era peluquera; el mundo de la belleza es parte de mi vida. Estudié psicología porque quería trabajar con personas... y poco a poco me convertí en una Make Up Artist.

¿Qué cosas te inspiran?

Muchas cosas. Soy afortunada y viajo mucho alrededor del mundo, así que me obligo a mí misma a absorber todos los estímulos.

¿Cuál es el truco de maquillaje que toda mujer debería saber y aplicar?

El éxito de un maquillaje es que alguien te diga lo guapa que estás sin darse cuenta de que hiciste un gran esfuerzo a la hora de maquillarte. Es conseguir un efecto natural, sencillo. Las reglas hay que tomarlas de forma flexible, sólo tienes que adaptar cualquier maquillaje.

TRUCOS PARA UNA IMAGEN PRECIOSA

* CUTIS LUMINOSO
Antes de extender la base, piensa qué acabado deseas. Para una cobertura total, usa una brocha y para un acabado más transparente, usa una espátula o los dedos. Si tienes que mezclar un iluminador con la base, hazlo imperceptible para lograr el efecto: "es mi preciosa piel y no mi iluminador la base".

* OJOS DE COLOR
Perfila los ojos con eyeliner y encima difumina capas de sombra para dar profundidad. Utiliza sombras de colores mejor que negro.

* BOCAS JUGOSAS
Para labios bien definidos y perfectos, usa un pincel y repasa bien la línea del labio. Para un resultado fresh, difumina los extremos.

de forma que embellaza tus labios, el tono de tu piel y la forma de tus ojos.

«Qué tendencia de maquillaje veremos en otoño/invierno 2012-13?

Grandes pestañas, cejas más pobladas y rostros tierra profundos. Algo sofisticado a la vez que bastante natural.

«Tu primer recuerdo de maquillaje?

¡El maquillaje de Clinique! Mi madre lo usaba de hecho lo sigue haciendo y me acuerdo muy bien de la cajita verde...

Más tarde, de adolescente empecé mezclando polvos para crear sombras y colores que creía me iban mejor.

«Curiosamente, mezclaba polvos Clinique!

«Qué aspecto de tu trabajo prefieres?

Ya sea en un shooting, un show o con una famosa, trabajo con personas muy creativas que me enriquecen. Y tengo la oportunidad de viajar por el mundo. Y ahora con Clinique llego a las mujeres de forma global, con contenido digital que llega a todo el mundo...

«Cuál ha sido el mayor avance en maquillaje desde que empiezas?

Los productos hoy hacen mucho más que crear diferentes looks; aportan beneficios además de sus colores. Clinique en concreto es capaz de crear productos fáciles de usar gracias a un packaging innovador y sus ingredientes permiten que el maquillaje permanezca más tiempo intacto al mismo tiempo que ofrece beneficios para la piel.

3 imprescindibles

DE JENNA MENARD

Siempre estoy aplicando un labial como Chubby Stick Moisturizing (19 €); un eyeliner que permite delinear y también difuminar hasta lograr una buena sombra de ojos, como Lápiz Quickliner for eyes intense (21,50 €). Un delineador para cejas, como High Lengths Mascara (22,50 €).

3 looks DE PRIMAVERA

Para el verano, adoro los productos Color-Changing-rosso. Adoro los labios vibrantes. El coral queda bien a todos y puede ser una estupenda alternativa al clásico rojo.

INSTANT CHEEKBONES

Fake it, fast: The quest for perfect bone structure ends here. By Jessica Prince

CONTOUR, MAKEUP is back, big-time. (Think Grease girls, not Rocky Horror) Highlighting and shading "can take years off your face and give you structure that's not actually there," says makeup artist Sonia Kashuk. While the look may seem intimidating, "keep it simple with three products," adds Clinique Global Colour Artist Jenna Menard: a sculpting product or bronzer, blush, and highlighter. Apply foundation, then follow these steps:

ASSEMBLE YOUR KIT The goal is to simulate your skin's natural tones so your results look "as real as possible," says Kashuk. For the deepest "shading" color, you'll need a sculpting product or a matte bronzer two shades darker than your skin (nothing orangey or shimmery). Use your favorite rosy blush, then choose a peafowl silver or gold highlighter. Keep the textures consistent throughout.

BLEND, BLEND, BLEND Step 1: Dip an angled brush in your sculpting shade, suck it in your cheeks, and blend the product down the sunken line in an up-and-down motion. Stop an inch from your mouth. Step 2: Using a circular motion, diffuse the blush on just the apples of your cheeks. Step 3: Highlight the uppermost point of your cheeks with Menard's trick: Place a finger below your brow bone near the outer corner of your eye and move it down until you feel your cheekbone—that's where you'll apply highlighter. Soften it until all harsh lines have disappeared.

GOODBYE, JOWLS For those over age 50, the focus should shift from your cheekbones (they hollow out naturally over time) to defining your jaw. Dust bronzer under your jawline, and blot the edges into your neck. ■

Людмила Курбатова о «Нью-Йорку»: «Я погружалась в Нью-Йорк, чтобы понять, как же это место, которое я видела на экране, выглядит на самом деле. Я с нетерпением ждала каждого Рождество, ведь именно в это время родители сажали нас в машину и в четырех часах изнуряющей поездки мы прибывали в самое сердце Нью-Йорка», рассказывает она. «Праздничная атмосфера, красные люди, модные парики, яркие огни... Я думала, что когда мы впервые увидим Нью-Йорк, который мы видели раз на телевидении, будем в восторге. Но это было не так. Бродвейские постановки были сабо, я не смысла прийти впечатлением детства». С момента переезда в Нью-Йорк Дженна больше ни разу не была на мюзиклах, да и другие «туристические погружения» в Нью-Йорк не имели для нее смысла.

«Сейчас я могу сказать, что это место великолепно и если есть возможность, я бы хотела вернуться туда снова», — уверена Людмила.

длинная путь, здесь

можно найти все, что

ГЛАВНОЕ ПРАВИЛО Секрет — большие щечки. И не обязательно гримировать щеки яркими губами, скисшимися и мертвым цветом, — это любая комбинация. Для певицы Кэти Уолкер в колле пастельного розового цвета, с ярко-красными щечками и темным воском пермутированного тепла, чтобы достигнуть матового эффекта. Образ получился очень интересным, но необычайно ярким, как раз то, что нужно Кэти. Альтернативный вариант — смелые яркие краски, как, например, красную помаду и блеск для губ в одинаковом оттенке.

■ Красные губы и ягоды антуриума — не скромно, но эффектно. Для певицы Кэти Уолкер красная помада Clinique Chubby Stick. Погруженный в классическую историю, он делает лицо более привлекательным, а взгляд — более уверенным.

■ Использование ярких цветов, конечно же, не всегда уместно. Для певицы Кэти Уолкер красная кисть для глаз Volume Mascara — не скромно, но скромно одновременно. Идеальный баланс между яркостью и изысканностью.

■ Красивые ресницы хороши всегда, и потому без ума от большого количества краски. Для певицы Кэти Уолкер красная кисть для глаз Volume Mascara — не скромна, но скромна одновременно. Можно ограничиться одним или двумя слоями, но для действительно яркого макияжа лучше использовать три-четыре. Как-то в косметике, сделанной для профессионалов, я видела забавную анекдотическую надпись: «Краска для глаз не должна быть яркой, чтобы ее можно было использовать для глаз».

■ Румпук оклевет любой макияж и способен добиться своего в два движения. Блеск для губ Clinique Chubby Stick имеет пастельный розовый оттенок, который делает лицо привлекательнее. И не стоит бояться с ним переборщить!

Jenna's ADDICTION

Freshly anointed Clinique global colour artist Jenna Menard talks bright hues, camera-ready tricks and latest lip loves. BY EUGENE KELLY

Jenna Menard didn't know it at the time, but the local housewife who flocked to her door to have her makeup done in the basement of her Pennsylvania childhood home would end up having a major influence on her career. "They really affected their transformations had on their mood as they left proved so powerful that I decided to become a makeup artist," says Menard, a graduate of Layfayette College with a bachelors of art in psychology; she put her studies to good use in her first job as a makeup artist. Right now Menard's mother is probably about that same age again. Menard has scored perhaps the most coveted gig you can get in the beauty industry: position of global colour artist for Clinique. So how did she get here? "Years ago the head of Clinique's global colour team, Award-winning costume designer Lynn Roth, so gave me her number, and I just called her up and asked if I could work at her personal makeup bag: two shades of foundation, three mascaras to see how they looked on my skin, and a few other things," she said with a smile. "She asked really pointed questions. Now I know what she wanted me to do: I wanted to play with makeup to actually learn about what makeup can really do."

Stepford Wives remake followed under the guidance of movie-making mastermind Madonna, and Menard's makeup experience was priceless, everyone said. Menard was more suited to the world of fashion than makeup, however, and a portfolio and landing a coveted gig assisting runway-makeup legend Dick Telander was the next step. "It was like she [Madonna] drops into the conversation. Obviously Menard is all about makeup, but she's also a fashionista, and sunny smile, a girl-next-door beauty type," says Telander. "She's very good. Ling and Alexander Wang, an artfully dishevelled duo held together with a single elastic band, were another highlight of her seductive smoky eye. As for her makeup style — the trademark look that has stars such as Kate Winslet, Rachel Weisz and Emily Blunt regularly sporting hot-for-red carpet appearances and red shows she gravitated towards stages and a more dramatic look. "I'm a creature of habit and work in little pops of color".

Menard finds inspiration in simple things: a container of clear plastic thumbtacks and seeing chains in chain-link fences. "I love the artistry in that," she says. "And I loved the film The Artist because she put her studies to good use in her first job as a makeup artist. Right now Menard's mother is probably about that same age again. Menard has scored perhaps the most coveted gig you can get in the beauty industry: position of global colour artist for Clinique. So how did she get here? "Years ago the head of Clinique's global colour team, Award-winning costume designer Lynn Roth, so gave me her number, and I just called her up and asked if I could work at her personal makeup bag: two shades of foundation, three mascaras to see how they looked on my skin, and a few other things," she said with a smile. "She asked really pointed questions. Now I know what she wanted me to do: I wanted to play with makeup to actually learn about what makeup can really do."

"Pay attention to the light in which you apply your makeup. Daylight is always a safe bet, because it's unforgiving."

Her love of the pared-back, even messy look has been reflected in her personal makeup bag: two shades of foundation, three mascaras to see how they looked on my skin, and a few other things," she said with a smile. "She asked really pointed questions. Now I know what she wanted me to do: I wanted to play with makeup to actually learn about what makeup can really do."

As for her can't-live-without-it staple? "A made Chubby Stick," she said. "I used one every day for years. It's a classic last fashion week — it's out soon and is going to be a big one. Makeup artists are going to be using it a lot. It's a great natural lip shade before applying a nude or color, but this can dry lips out. The trick is to apply a thin layer from the middle of your eye. When you put your mascara on, your eyes really pop out. You can't ignore it. You have to pay attention to the light in which you apply your makeup. Daylight is always a safe bet."

With Menard's input into the hundreds of products in development and a stream of new launches, including the recently performing Even Better Concealer, in 12 shades, is just a taste. Clinique's newest Pardo, Clinique's senior vice-president of creative development, is excited to see what Menard will bring to their new-found ability to "create something for a woman that she doesn't have in her closet, and she loves it, she's hooked. That's what Chubby Sticks are: it's fun, it's playful, it makes you smile."

„Mir ist es wichtig, Frauen dabei zu unterstützen, etwas für sich selbst zu tun und ihre natürliche Schönheit zu perfektionieren“, so Jenna Menard.

1ST FABULOUS

Im Reich der Farben

JENNA MENARD gehört zu den besten Make-up-Artists der Welt und ist Chef-Visagistin von Clinique. FIRST verrät die Amerikanerin, die regelmäßig Hollywoodstars schminkt, ihre Tricks für ein perfektes Make-up.

Sie ist eine der ganz Großen ihrer Zunft. Bei den internationalen Make-up-Awards „Vogue“ und „Elle“ gewann sie zweimal den Preis für die beste Make-up-Künstlerin. Wenn sie schwören auf das Farbspektrum von Jenna Menard, Chef-Visagistin bei Clinique, Schon als Kind hat sie mit Farben und Make-up fasziniert. Ihre Mutter war Make-up-Künstlerin und darüber, wie man mit einfacheren Tricks ein perfektes Make-up erzielt.

Was ist Make-up für Frauen im Alter unterscheidbar?

Jede Frau hat wahrscheinlich ihren ganz eigenen, persönlichen Reichtum zu Make-up. Ich persönlich bin besser mit warmen Farben fischeln. Denken Sie nur an sich selbst. Egal, ob Sie ein Produkt verwenden, das Ihnen Tönung zum Stratum bringt, oder einer die Schönheit Ihres Augenbrauen aus. Sie können Ihre Farbe leichter und gleichzeitig selbstbewusster.

Wie würden Sie den Look der aktuellen Make-up-Kollektion „Almost Spring“ von Clinique beschreiben?

Oppige Farben, intensive Pflege und eine cremige Textur zeichnen die wunderbar unkomplizierten „Chubby Sticks“ von Clinique aus.

Was ist die Basis für diesen natürlichen Look?

Wichtigste Basis für jeden Look ist die richtige Grundierung, denn sie ist das Herzstück jedes Make-ups. Deshalb sollte man sich dafür auch am meisten Zeit nehmen. Ich gehe z.B. mit Egal, ob Sie ein Produkt verwenden, das mit dem Pinsel oder mit den Fingern aufgetragen wird, sie sollte gut und gleichmäßig in die Haut eingeklopft werden, sodass kein Kontrast mehr sichtbar ist. Ist die Grundierung perfekt, kann man mit den Auftragen von Lipsticken und Mascara beginnen.

Augens-Mascara: Gibt es einen Trick, um es nicht zu übertreiben?

Die meisten Frauen machen den Fehler, dass sie, während sie Mascara auftragen, frontal in den Spiegel schauen. Das Ergebnis ist, dass sie mehr Wimperntusche am Lid als auf dem Wimpern haben. Um das zu vermeiden, braucht man nur das Kind ein bisschen zu haben, sodass man hinterher schauen muss, um sich die frischen Farben aus, mit denen sich jede Frau wohl fühlt.

Was wählt man die richtige Lippenstiftfarbe?

Meiner Meinung nach gilt es keine Regel dafür. Jeder Frau kann ihre Farbe finden. Ich finde jedoch, dass Frauen auch mal etwas Neues ausprobieren. Dabei kommt es oft zu positiven Überraschungen. Der Almost Lipstick von Clinique arbeitet zum Beispiel so, dass die Farbe mit jedem Lippenfarbe durchschimmern. So wird jede Farbe zu einem ganz individuellen Ton.

Was ist Ihr persönliches Clinique-Must-Häkchen?

Mein absoluter Lieblingsprodukt ist der Clinique Chubby Stick. Er verleiht den Lippen eine sanfte, leichte, kleine, aber sehr viel Feuchtigkeit und ist überall in jeder Handtasche Platz. Doch das Beste daran ist: Er lässt sich einfach auftragen, dass man dazu nicht einmal eines Spiegels braucht.

INSTA-Glam Red Lip

These lips have a colorless base. To create a smoky eye, I apply a dark brown shadow to the outer corners. I create a smudge barrier.

Apply a pink, blue-based shade to the inner corners. It's bold and matte lips. I apply a dark brown shadow to the outer corners. I apply a dark brown shadow to the outer corners. I apply a dark brown shadow to the outer corners.

Dot a highlighter over the cupid's bow to make it look sexier.

QUICK CONTOURING

Using the top edge of a large brush, apply powder to areas darker than skin tone before the contours.

Use the flat side of the same brush to apply a light-colored powder over the features to set.

Buff a matte powder blush over the apples of the cheeks and along the cheekbones.

Dot highlights such as Benefit High Beam, along the brow bone, nose bridge, and under the chin for a dewy glow.

Ha realizado producciones para revistas, también trabajó en la famosa Fashion Week de Nueva York y actualmente se encuentra en Nueva York, con sus amigas, Cary Mulligan, Uma Thurman y Sofia Coppola. En junio de 2011 debutó en el cargo que actualmente ocupa en Clinique, en donde trabaja en colaboración con el equipo científico para desarrollar los productos de la marca, el equipo de las fórmulas y Jenna apoyando su perspectiva artística, su reputación y conocimiento.

No es la primera vez que Jenna Menard apela al poder de transformación de la mujer. Su madre era dueña de un salón de belleza en Pennsylvania y al comenzó a darse cuenta cómo las clientas salían del lugar felices y rejuvenecidas. Entonces decidió que su trabajo era darles lo mismo. Trabajó en una agencia de publicidad en Nueva York y luego se mudó a Nueva Jersey. "Me encantaba ver a las mujeres que se sentían hermosas y se sentían bien", dice. "Me encantaba ver a las mujeres que se sentían hermosas y se sentían bien".

LENS CRAFTER

With flaw-blurring skills that could put Photoshop out of business, Jenna Menard has both Hollywood and the fashion world covered. By Britt Aboutalebs

What Jenna Menard members most about her childhood basement is that it's safe. "I was the only one who are the women who left with a little boy in their steps," says the NYC-based makeup artist. She recently tapped to be Clinique's new global color artist. Although Menard graduated from a cosmetology degree, she now practices color therapy in salons including Kari Winona, Coda, Copper & Co., and Untuck. "The best part of makeup is just how good people feel when they leave," she says. "They were Steford wives, so they had to look perfect," Menard started an apprenticeship with makeup guru Dick Page, a introduced her to his fashion world colleagues, his celebrity fan club, and, most importantly, his just-wash-it-off philosophy of life: "He would say, 'It's just makeup. It's just makeup, it comes off. We can always change it,'" Menard says. "When some one asks me, 'Is it washable or not?' I still call him up to thank him."

What's the secret to getting runway red carpet makeup? For runway, it's a matter of looking good for 10 to 15 minutes, whereas for TV, it's a matter of hours. So, for example, using hard-to-remove waterproof mascara backstage on the models isn't fair to them, because they have to have it removed to show to the red carpet. I try to avoid anything with too much slipperiness. Vaseline is great for getting makeup off before you use cleaner. If you just throw face wash on and work it around, everything will come off.

How did makeup change the way you approach celebrity skin? My trick is layering cream under powder to create a look that is more luminous than matte. I like to use a cream shadow as stemming through the paparazzi lens. A cream blush topped with a powder blush in a spot where it's not supposed to be.

What's the secret to getting a perfect celebrity skin? It gives just enough color to show on every lip tone but not too much. You want to be comfortable when wearing it. It just looks like you've done something but not in an "Oh my god, that's so done" kind of way.

*I love Clinique Chubby Stick in my purse," says Menard. "The color is beautiful, it's a tinted balm, and it's great for lips. I also love Clinique's Black Honey. simply more prone to arthritis. There are other types of faulty scaffolding besides my dysplasia. Many people have another abnormality called pincer hips, which occur when the ball or the socket, in sports requires lots of repeated crossover kicks and mobility—gymnastics, ice skating, and soccer, for example, can strain the cartilage down to where bone can pierce

Marc Philippson, M.D., who, as an orthopedic surgeon at the Stadman Philippson Research Institute in Vail, Colorado, has treated the hips of many professional and amateur athletes, including gold medalists Julia Mancuso and Tara Lipinski. "In our eighteen," Philippson says. "I might have said, 'If you want to keep this hip for the rest of your life, you need to focus on biking, running, swimming, and tennis.' But that may not mean to like.'" In yoga, he advises stretching to the point of tension but not into pain—going for 70 degrees of flexion

I'm avoiding yoga for the moment because my other hip is running on empty. The surgery is an ordeal, and I'm not there yet. Afterward, I need a blood transfusion, and when I left the hospital, I had to around with a walking harness, so patients were cut off from the freaked-out by the hardware that was fused to my flesh. Most hip patients endure months of physical therapy, including walking, sitting, sitting, driving, or climbing the stairs again. My doctor subscribed to the self-taught method of rehab and prevention a strength training exercise and walking program I did at home. After six months, I felt almost as limber as a newborn. One year after surgery, my hip is back to 90 percent of my life, and those power hips will be back where they belong—on the beach, walking strong. □

PHENOMENON BB CREAMS

IF YOU DON'T ALREADY have a BB cream tucked inside your makeup bag, it's likely you will soon. First conceived by a dermatologist as a product to cover for sensitive or acne-prone skin, the all-in-one "beauty balms"—equal parts tinted moisturizer, sunscreen, mineral, anti-aging, and skincare—have spread to Korea and China. "If you go to a drugstore in Asia, you will barely see any foundation—we don't use it anymore," says Dr. Jart, the Korean skincare brand directed by a collective of Korean dermatologists. The do-it-all BBs have taken off quickly, inspiring the likes of Dior, Estée Lauder, Garnier, Clinique, and Shiseido. "We created an entire section to them in their stores. There's a lot in a BB cream that makes it different from just a tinted moisturizer," says Dr. Jart. "It's great for small blemishes, soothing irritation, control oil and shine," says makeup artist Jenna Menard, who has been using Clinique's BB cream as a base for her foundation. "It's a great foundation that does everything." —FIORELLA VALDESOL

COME BACK LIPSTICK LEGEND

Why Clinique's '90s breakthrough Black Honey still inspires fervent devotion.

MY FIRST LIPSTICK WAS MY MOTHER'S, and it was Clinique's Black Honey. My mom is a natural beauty, a total free spirit who subsists on just a bit of mascara and a lot of barely there lip color. When I was growing up, she never went anywhere without Clinique's unforgettable chrome tube, and she always had a tube of it in her makeup bag at that point. Its cult status is well deserved. The babble texture makes it soothing on the lips, and its raisin hue is subtle and flattering on virtually everyone, the sort of sheer shade that can make you look like a movie star. It's an wearable at the very least. "Just like Black Honey, these new shades look amazing on everyone," Jenna Menard, Clinique's Global Colour Artist, says. "They're sheer, and they work with any natural lip tone to create a custom color."

Lipstick has experienced a renaissance of sorts over the past few years. Whether or not this is related to the trying economic times, as the so-called "lipstick index" suggests, there has been a push to start wearing the product again. It was long a runner-up to gloss, but once the trend of matte went out, the most intense deep-pink could be seen from the limited palette. For starters, however, the palette is a bit more subdued, earthy almost, which means that high-maintenance lip-richly pigmented and long-lasting—is a bit of a stretch.

Clinique's latest add-ons to its almost Lipstick line offer the ideal antidote. Each of the seven new variants of the classic Black Honey is from the berry-tinted Choco Honey line. "Black Honey is as wearable as the original," Menard says. "These new shades look amazing on everyone." Menard, Clinique's Global Colour Artist, says. "They're sheer, and they work with any natural lip tone to create a custom color."

I carefully tested out the entire range, but thanks to my mother's enduring influence, Black Honey is the shade I return to again and again. Now I too am never without that polished chrome tube.

SEXY LASHES!

We could listen to Clinique global colour artist Jenna Menard talk about makeup for hours, but her tip for making lashes pop is the greatest: "I like to dab a bit of light, shimmery shadow right on the middle of the lid, as if you had just pressed your pinkie finger there. Then, when you put on mascara or curl your lashes, your lashes stand out like crazy because you have a little bit of lightness behind them."

KATE WINSLET

The hottest beauty-insider secret? "Reversed black liner," says makeup artist Jenna Menard, who layered Winslet's look with liquid liner pencil and liquid liner, leaving lids nearly naked with just a touch of pink shadow. "It gives nice definition without looking harsh." For a clean, even sweep, Menard recommends pulling your temples up while thinning sketching in the line. Use a pointed Q-tip to clean up any imperfections.
