GOOD HUNTING

■ POLO PANACHE
The Reverso Tribute Moon by Jaeger-LeCoultre nods to the watchmaker's first collection in 1931, which allowed polo players to reverse the face of the watch during play to protect it, with one celestial update: a hand-hammered disk showing lunar progressions on the dial ($12,700; jaeger-lecoultre.com).

■ WINNING STREAK
Cartier celebrated its 100th anniversary last year, and to mark the occasion it released thirteen updates of the brand's most iconic watch: the Tank. This iteration offers a caramel leather strap and an 18k rose-gold case—a fitting look for a day at the races ($9,900; cartier.com).

■ BORN TO RUN
Keep tabs on every time at the track with this deep blue classic watch from the Master Collection by Longines. The topstitched leather strap, the easy-to-read dial, and the stainless steel case create just the right amount of drama peeking out from a crisp white shirt ($2,150; longines.com). ☐

■ BLUE RIBBON READY

The stitched leather strap, the white-gold case, and the elegant guilloche stripes on the blue dial of the Rolex Cellini Date sport a formality that looks dashing on Derby Day ($17,800; rolex.com).

■ STITCH IN TIME

Launched in Switzerland at the 2017 Baselworld watch show, the Cape Cod Bracelet de Force by Hermès features the saddle stitching used by the company's artisans for centuries. The athletic, sturdy timepiece stands up as stylishly on a morning ride as it does on a morning commute ($3,400; hermes.com).

YESTERDAY TO TODAY

"Women are mixing vintage and modern in order to create a statement that's singular," says Louis Webre, senior vice president of the auction powerhouse Doyle New York. Webre sees an uptick of interest in clothing and accessories from the Victorian, Art Nouveau and Art Deco periods. Case in point: these chandelier earrings. They offer a perfect marriage of Victorian-era stonework (old) with a surround of black-edged flowers made of feathers (new).

A rectangular advertisement featuring a Salvatore Ferragamo Emozione perfume bottle on the left. The bottle is rectangular with a gold cap and chain, containing a light-colored liquid. The word 'EMOZIONE' is printed on the front. The background is a warm, textured beige. To the right of the bottle is a detailed botanical illustration of roses, including pink flowers, green leaves, and a small caterpillar. The illustration is signed 'J. de Jardine 1722' at the bottom. On the far right, there is a column of text.

SMELL THE ROSES

Perfumers Alberto Morillas and Amandine Clerc-Marie picked Bulgarian rose—a rich, heady scent—to dominate this fragrance, then balanced it with notes of musk and suede. The result: a perfume both delicate and sensuous that works from day to night.

MATT & NAT

THE PACK

We're giving this sweet little knapsack from Matt & Nat the green light: The luxe-looking vegan leather the brand is known for—nothing comes from animals, not even the glue—is so supple, it feels like the real thing. Plus, the roomy inside (bank on enough space for a 13-inch laptop) is lined with material made solely from recycled plastic bottles (an average of 21 per bag). And who doesn't love a plethora of pockets? There's a grand total of five to stash a bouquet of essentials.

Boots

Lighter, drier models that will carry you from fall to winter — no matter the conditions.

BREAKTHROUGH

The Go-Anywhere Hiking Boot

$190; salewa.com

One of the most versatile boots we've ever tested, the Salewa Hike

Trainer GTX has the technical guts to handle low-scale rock climbing but the stability and comfort to be used as a day hiker. It's incredibly tough, with a reinforced sole, steel wire frame, and front cup that keeps your ankle supported and toes secure. The lacing system stays snug and conforms to your foot yet never feels cramped; sticky rubber edging helps on scrambles. A soft nubuck upper provides comfort for the ankle, while a Gore-Tex membrane keeps it weathertight but breathable.

STICKING IT
A supersticky compound in the outsole ensures your feet will stay steady even in inclement trail conditions.

Road Shoes

BREAKTHROUGH

Finally, a Shoe That Works for (Almost) Everyone

$145; asicsamerica.com
Generally speaking, lighter shoes are shunned by heavier runners, and heavier shoes are no good for lighter runners. But the Asics Gel-Nimbus 15 received universal praise from testers — many of whom noted that finding a high-end road training shoe that's cushioned, responsive, and viable for runners of all sizes and abilities is close to impossible. We liked the mattress-like ride and the fact that it provides plenty of support. If you're looking to up your mileage, start here.

FEELS SO GOOD
ASICS put massive amounts of gel under the forefoot and heel to provide one of the most comfortable rides we've ever tested.

IN THE COUNTRY

Flights of Fancy

Every day now, more birds return to the trees, insects buzz in the garden and butterflies flutter about. Among the most welcome signs of spring's arrival, though, is John Derian's series of decoupage wall trays, created from 18th-century European bird engravings. The New York City-based company reproduces the original prints, then hand cuts and hand glues each one behind a piece of glass. Felt or paper is then applied as a backing. $195 each. John Derian Company, 6 East 2nd Street, 212-677-3917; Bergdorf Goodman, NYC, 800-558-1855.

BREAKFAST TIME
